FULL RELEASE

De Pere, WI -

newARTSpace is offering Hands ON! Printmaking Workshop with Lisa Wicka in conjunction with the current exhibition newART III.

Join other artists and makers on Feb. 4 for a lively few hours learning to make your own relief prints using LEGO tiles. That's right - LEGO tiles! During the worst of the pandemic many printmakers and other artists who had relied on shared facilities to create their work experimented with unusual techniques and methods to continue creating their art. It wasn't long before this DIY approach led to the design and sale of new equipment, like a DIY proofing press such as designed by Provisional Press (the brainchild of Steve and Liz Garst). In this Workshop participants will learn inventive ways of making designs using LEGO tiles, and then print them using the proofing press and hand printing methods. Each participant will be able to create and print a small edition.

Supplies will be provided. There is a nominal fee for the workshop. Advance registration is required. Contact art@newartspace124.com for details.

newARTSpace is a non-commercial community arts venue. Visiting the galleries is free and open to all. For further information: www.newartspace124.com
