

For Immediate Release
March 1, 2022

NEW/ART 2 is the second exhibition newARTSpace presents to the Northeast Wisconsin community of art lovers and supporters. Beginning with an opening reception on March 10 from 5-7pm celebrating the newest offerings of nine talented artists who work and reside in our region. Music will be provided by Good for the Soul, local musicians Cassandra Kremer and John Warpinski.

The art on exhibition covers a wide array of processes and concepts including a site-specific installation in the storefront window by Carol Emmons, new drawings by Marjorie Mau based on her experience with artifacts drawn for the Neville Museum, and an epic series of mixed media works created daily by former De Pere High School art educator Karen Stewart during the height of the pandemic isolation. (A complete list of the artists in this exhibition is detailed below along with their websites).

During the run of the exhibition newARTSpace will host additional events that are free and open to the public that relate to the art on display.

On March 26th at 1:00 Carol Emmons and Karen Stewart will join moderator Terri Warpinski for the Artist Conversation. This series is a live conversation with the artists in the gallery and invites audience members to engage with the artists with questions and comments. A podcast of the Artist Conversation is available on the gallery website.

Thursday, April 14th at 6:00 is the second installment of newARTSpace Book Club, featuring art, artists and writers that use the book form as a vehicle for their creative pursuits. This evening will feature artist Kristy Deetz and writer Ed Ridsen reading from their newly published second book Holidays Unfolding: The Continuing Adventures of Rabbit and Kitty Boy. Following the reading David Graham will hold a book signing for his newly released retrospective book In Plain Sight from EyeShot Publishing in Bologna, Italy newARTSpace is an artist-driven initiative creating exhibition, event and studio space in downtown De Pere. Through enlivening an old storefront on North Broadway, newARTSpace expands opportunities for contemporary art discourse in Northeastern Wisconsin and beyond.

All events are free and open to the public.
